Evolution of the L-band brightness temperature differences between SMOS measurements at descending and ascending orbit direction over Pacific Ocean (area between 160, 220 degree longitude and -60, +60 degree latitude) for first Stokes since June 2010.