General Conditions for the Utilisation of ESA's EO Third Party Missions data

I. Definitions

- ESA / the Agency means the European Space Agency.
- The PI (Principal Investigator) means the duly empowered representative of the entity accepting these Terms and Conditions and accessing the ESA Earth Observation (EO) Third Party Mission data.
 - Eligible PIs include any research and development (R&D) entity worldwide (e.g. university, research institution) and R&D and innovation teams of commercial European companies exclusively for non-commercial and non-operational activities, Incubators, Business Incubation Centres (BIC) and for civil Earth Observation research applications only.
 - Restrictions may apply to users from certain countries, depending on license conditions and national security legislation in the data provider's country as specified in the "Living Annex" attached hereto.
- TPM (Third Party Mission) means a satellite mission operated by any legal body, governmental or non-governmental entity other than ESA, and for whose data ESA has been granted a right of distribution to selected users.
- TPMO (Third Party Mission Owner) means the operator of the respective TPM. Should data ownership be with a different person or legal entity than the operator of the respective TPM, TPMO shall mean this person or legal entity wherever appropriate.
- TPM Data means data originated by the Third Party Mission satellites and owned by the respective TPMO. The TPM Data can be split into two major groups:
 - the open data without any technical or financial constraints attached (e.g. with free and open data policy). Access to open data is provided following submission of a Fast Registration form and acceptance of these Terms and Conditions
 - the restrained data for which access is managed differently due to policy, technical and/or financial constraints. Access to restrained data requires submission of a Project Proposal, which will be evaluated by ESA with regards to R&D relevance and the requested volume of data. ESA notifies the PI of the outcome of the evaluation and, if successful, a maximum quota is assigned for available data. The PI is authorised to use the TPM restrained data only for the ESA-approved activity.
- Value Added Product / Derivative Product means any product developed by the PI and/or the Agency derived from TPM Data by any method which irreversibly modifies the TPM Data, representing an intellectual or artistic creation of the mind.

A. Data Supply

- A.1. ESA provides access to the agreed amount and type of TPM Data to the PI through the most suitable interface.

- A.2. ESA, while duly considering the interests of the PI, reserves the right to review, modify, suspend or terminate access to the TPM Data at any time in the event that
- a) Funding of TPM or associated processing facilities operations cannot be sustained
 - b) Satellite or related ground system failure occurs
 - c) Planned activities of related ESA or TPMO systems are suspended or cancelled in order to carry out special activities that ESA or TPMO consider of high priority
 - d) Status check of the respective satellite(s) or performance evaluation is needed.

TPMO may modify their mission operation plan(s) at any time, should they consider such corrective action necessary for ensuring mission success.

- A.3. Neither ESA nor TPMO guarantees the suitability of TPM Data for the purpose of the PI and shall not be held liable for any damage derived from the use of such TPM Data by the PI or any third party.
- A.4. ESA has the right to provide any report or other documentation regarding TPM Data to the TPMO. Only upon explicit request by the PI, ESA can guarantee the confidentiality of communications, reports and other documentation submitted by the PI, to the extent mutually agreed between ESA and the PI.
- A.5. As per ESA policy, very high-resolution imagery over conflict areas cannot be provided.

B. General conditions of data utilisation

- B.1. The PI is required to accept these Terms and Conditions before access is granted to TPM Data, and undertake submission of a Fast Registration or Project Proposal as outlined in Section 1 of these Terms and Conditions.
- B.2. The PI acknowledges and takes account of scheduling and processing constraints both at satellite and ground segment levels.
- B.3. The PI understands that acceptance of these Terms and Conditions includes general acceptance of the related TPMO data policy as referred to in the “Living Annex” attached hereto.
- B.4. The PI assumes full responsibility for the TPM Data utilization, including utilisation with co-investigators. If applicable, the PI shall provide ESA with a detailed list of all co-investigators.
- B.5. The PI is authorised to duplicate and/or move the TPM Data as necessary to perform their work, without any charges to ESA or to the TPMO.
- B.6. The PI undertakes that the TPM Data supplied shall not be copied, transferred or otherwise be made available to third parties without the written consent of the TPMO through ESA.
- B.7. The PI and all authorised co-investigators together shall, at any time, observe the following conditions of use:
- a) The PI is authorised to use the TPM restrained data only for the ESA approved activity;
 - b) Indemnify ESA and/or TPMO for the full amount of any loss, expense, cost or liability (other than arising from any act, omission or direction of ESA or TPMO) resulting from any utilisation of data,

- c) for which ESA and/or TPMO might be held responsible for any reason whatsoever;
 - c) Not assign any rights, obligations or interests herein without the prior written approval by TPMO through ESA.
- B.8. The PI accepts to modify, suspend or terminate the utilization of ESA TPM Data when requested by ESA. The PI shall have no right whatsoever to claim for compensation or damage as a consequence of ESA's or TPMO's decision to terminate or suspend the delivery of TPM Data.
- B.9. The PI waives any claim against ESA or TPMO in the event of any damage directly or indirectly arising from malfunction or interruption in the TPM Data access process for any reason whatsoever.
- B.10. Costs of equipment to access, receive or read TPM Data or any other costs associated with the execution of the work will be borne and / or secured by the PI.
- B.11. The PI informs ESA in case of problems with TPM Data access or data quality.
- B.12. The PI shall publish the results achieved using TPM data in peer-reviewed journals and/or present results at dedicated workshops, preferably if organised by ESA. For a period of six months after work completion, the PI has the exclusive right to publish the results; thereafter, this right will be shared with ESA and TPMO unless the PI can demonstrate a character of confidentiality of the results.
- B.13. Any publication whatsoever resulting from work carried out using TPM Data shall contain the following sentence: "Data provided by the European Space Agency". The PI shall provide ESA with a free copy of any publication. ESA shall at any time have a royalty free right of publication and dissemination of these publications, unless the PI claims a character of confidentiality¹ of their own results and to the extent that such reproduction and dissemination do not conflict with the rights of third parties.

C. Intellectual Property Rights

- C.1. The PI acknowledges the ownership by TPMO of all TPM Data.
- C.2. The PI clearly marks all TPM Data, irrespective of the form in which they are produced, as follows: © TPMO (year of reception).
- C.3. To the maximum extent possible, the PI guarantees to respect the TPMO's intellectual property rights and reports any evidence of unlawful use, including such of third parties, immediately to ESA in writing.
- C.4. The TPMO's ownership and intellectual property rights over the TPM Data shall not prevent:
 - i. the Agency and / or the PI from creating Value Added Products;
 - ii. the Agency and / or the PI from owning intellectual property rights over the method/s to obtain the Value Added Products and the Value Added Products themselves.
