This document provides the prices of the ESA Third Party Mission data products for restrained research and applications development use according to the current ESA Earth Observation data policy (available within ESA Earthnet Online, PI Community web site at https://earth.esa.int/pi/docs/doc/download/revised_ESA_data_policy.pdf

For additional information about Third Party Mission (TPM) products (prices, format, dissemination), please contact ESA EOHelp:

The product prices assume a nominal data downlink scenario.

The following principles apply:

- The prices are based upon the cost of reproduction, which includes the direct costs associated with the following activities: physical media, human and computer resources for extracting from the archive and copying the required data, and quality control.
- A number of systematically processed products have been specifically developed (small data volume) for availability on Internet servers. Such products are made available at zero cost; nevertheless access to this data is monitored.

The ESA Invoicing Policy:

- Addressee: invoices are addressed to the Project's Principal Investigator. A dedicated invoice address will be accepted only if communicated at the time of the first order
- Institution/Country policy restrictions can be considered upon specific PI's request at the start of the Project
- Frequency: invoices are usually issued yearly or at the end of the Project; exceptionally they can be provided on request from the Principal Investigator
- Methods of Payment: only Bank Transfers are allowed. Details will be provided in the final invoice
